

Ivy & Establishment Frock Up For A Wedding Showcase

Merivale is dressing its beautiful ivy and Establishment in their most glamorous wedding finery for a wedding showcase with a difference. Sydney's finest wedding suppliers will gather at the two premier venues, both located on George Street. Entry to both venues is free.

On Saturday 21st August, we invite brides-to-be to spend a few hours seeing how their own wedding could look while experiencing the luxurious style and service that Merivale is renowned for. Brides can sip champagne and sample delicacies created by Merivale executive chefs, David O'Brien and Richard Johnson, and that's not all, we're also inviting Sydney's favourite wedding suppliers to show off their wares.

At ivy, celebrity wedding planner Anthony Del Col and couture wedding gown designer Louise Alvarez will be in The Ivy Room while event stylist Form over Function will be in The Sun Room. Wander through both stunning venues to admire custom-made stationery from Huetopia and cutting-edge wedding cakes from Faye Cahill Cakes. Brides can also view the work of Sydney's leading photographers, Deyan and Brett Odgers, while discussing flowers, cars, stationery, wedding entertainment or commissioning one-of-a-kind cake toppers.

Just a short walk down George Street at Establishment, view the handiwork of leading photographer Graham Munro and cinematographer Abraham Joffe, event stylists Nightingales and Sweet Art and chat to other suppliers about make-up and hair options, creating a bridal registry list or discussing the perfect honeymoon destination and more with the experts.

There are also plenty of little extras that go towards making a wedding day simply unforgettable: French-inspired gifts from famed bridal registry Genevieve Lethu, bespoke bomboniere and placecards baked by Polka Dot Cookies, luxurious Queen B candles and HF Wedding Cars for all your transport needs.

Merivale's own wedding events team will also be on hand throughout the day to answer any questions.
